Lotus Pínnacle of Amoghapasha Mantra Ten Condensed Benefits

By Lama Zopa Rínpoche

OM PADMO USHNĪSHA VIMALE HŪM PHAT

If you recite, or even see, touch, or remember this mantra:

- 1. It purifies the five heavy negative karmas without break, which cause you to be reborn in the Most Unbearable Hell Realm.
- 2. You will never be reborn in the lower realms.
- 3. For 100,000 eons, you will achieve [a rebirth as] a wheel-turning king.
- 4. If you recite seven mantras and then blow on a conch, drum, or other musical instrument, for anyone who hears the sound of the conch or drum their five heavy negative karmas without break will be purified. That means, by the way, their ten nonvirtuous karmas will also be purified.
- 5. If a fully ordained monk broke any of their four root vows due to which they were reborn in a hell realm, by someone reciting this mantra and thinking of them, the monk will be liberated immediately from the hell realm and receive a higher rebirth.
- 6. It helps to heal someone who is sick.
- 7. If you recite this ten-syllable mantra 100,000 times, you will abide in the ten bhumis, with no returning from enlightenment. You will become Wheel-Turning Lotus Crown Pinnacle Having Meaning (Skt. Amoghapasha).

- 8. If you recite this mantra seven times every day for sentient beings, you will receive the merits of tathagatas equaling the number of sand grains of the river Ganga. When you pass away you will be reborn in the pure land of Amitabha, Blissful Realm, and you will achieve many hundreds of concentrations.
- 9. If you recite this mantra on sand (or powder, water, and so forth) and then sprinkle it on corpses, including those in a crematorium or on a funeral pyre, or on the bones of people or animals, even if the person has broken root vows and due to that is to be reborn in the lower realms, their future life will immediately change and they will definitely be reborn in a high realm.
- 10. If you recite this mantra on sandalwood incense, put your clothes over the smoke, and then wear those clothes when you go to see an important person to request something, it helps to achieve success. Anyone who smells the incense or the scent of the incense on the clothes that you wear achieves the complete holy body of a buddha. It purifies the negative karmas and obscurations of that person. It also heals contagious diseases, and liberates from enemies and thieves. It also frees animals who are bound and under the control of others.
